

Dear Parents,

Next week we will be studying what it means to be compassionate. In our theme story Sam and the Lucky Money, Sam shows compassion to a homeless man. I would like the class to also experience the joy of showing compassion by creating "Compassion Backpacks" for homeless children. We will be filling backpacks with items these children might need.

You can help us by sending in the item listed below. We will be creating _____ backpacks, so please bring in that many of your item.

Item to bring: _____

Thank you for helping with this activity!

Sincerely,
