

First, they had an idea.

Then they made a plan to progress toward a goal.

Next, they began to work and progress toward their goal.

It was hard work and they needed many workers.

Finally, the railroad was complete!

